Dear Member

The committee held a "virtual" meeting yesterday and we were all agreed that we have to close the club until further notice. I had intended to write to you all this morning setting out our reasons but the Prime Minister preempted that last night.

I spoke to David Shields before the PM's announcement and we agreed that the committee will hold another virtual meeting to review the situation at the end of April and we shall stick to that.

Some members are planning initiatives to keep us together during this difficult period and I will write again later this week. In the interim you should now all have access to our list of members and I urge you to stay in contact when you can.

Stay safe.

Dennis
